Dave, 2 notes:

- 1) I have missed most of the previous meetings and would like to attend this one. These meetings have an almost uncanny ability to occur on my day off or when I am otherwise committed, and I had (like you) hoped not to be here tomorrow. I too would prefer Monday or another day next week.
- 2) Have you cleared the necessary hurdles with procurement so that we won't be admonished for committing prematurely to a contract?

I spoke with Don this morning and of course he is anxious to meet again. He was thinking Friday sometime. I told him I thought you were unavailable and perhaps Monday may be better. I will be out on Friday but meet without me if it works.

The consultant agreed to provide a quick analysis for the $2,500 (against his better judgment, he said) and try to get us a draft by the close of business today. We can then discuss the draft Monday morning and meet with Don Monday afternoon perhaps?

I told him I would get back to him today as to our schedule and when we can meet.
